

Business Recovery, Resiliency and Growth

In times of crisis and uncertainty, small businesses must remain agile and proactive in decision-making to ensure long term stability and recovery.

Adaptability in today's business environment is crucial to survival. This training will address and focus on risk mitigation, unexpected disruptions, and the planning that is critical for sustainability or success of a business. Training comes complete with a guide and workbook covering these components:

- Identifying key resources, employees, goals, threats
- Plan for impacts and threats
- Implementing the plan
- Recovering strategies
